DOCTORS CAN DISAGREE

Hearing on Bill to Regulate the Practice of Medicine.
FUN FURNISHED FOR ALL

Senate Subcommittee Listens Patiently to All the Pleas—Some Were Ready to Go to Jail—Others Would Never Submit to Tyranny—What Was Said and Done.

The Senate District Committee-room was filled with a varied crowd yesterday afternoon.

The subcommittee having in charge the bill to regulate the practice of medicine in the District gave a public hearing. The opponents of the bill as well as those favoring it were out in force.

Dr. Gallinger, Senator from New Hampshire, pressed, Mr. Bacon was his colleague and came to be present only a few minutes, but remained throughout the hearing.

All schools were represented and it was refreshing to hear the old school doctors as they were. It became a fact that he was evening up for the many nasty uses of a life time. But the "regulators" took it good naturedly and laughed with the others.

WHY HE OPPOSED IT.

Just after the close of the hearing, as reported in the Evening Times, Dr. George Jackson of the medical school was introduced. He found fault with the selection of three favored physicians and two employees of the United States as the board of supervisors. He read from his written statement and in ten minutes was up, bona fide.

Dr. Nelson Van Dine, representing the physicians, spoke on his system and his own personal history.

"I am a physician," he said, "and I am a physician."

"I am a physician," he said, "and I am a physician."

"I am a physician," he said, "and I am a physician."

ITS YEAR WAS PROSPEROUS

Homeopathic Association Holds Its Annual Meeting.

Hospital Has Done Well and the Auxiliary Societies Have Helped It Much.

The National Homeopathic Association held its fourteenth annual meeting yesterday afternoon at the Board of Trade the proceedings developing the fact that the hospital is doing a great work and one which is increasing from year to year.

In the annual report for the year of trustees which was submitted by Mr. John Jay Edson, he said:

"It is with more than usual satisfaction that we are able to state that in efficiency and good work, equipment and excellent order, the hospital has never attained so high a standard before in its history." This fact was borne out by all the general and statistical reports made to the association.

First Vice President E. S. Hutchinson with Mr. Lewis Clephane as secretary. The attendance was large indicating the interest of the society in the event.

Two very interesting reports were read one from the Ladies' Aid society of which Mrs. Vanorippe is president, and the other from the Northcott Guild of which Mrs. J. H. Snyder is president. These reports were read by Miss Richards.

The Ladies' Aid society has turned over to the hospital nearly $2,000 which was about all that was collected or raised, the expenses of the society appearing to be at a minimum.

So also the Northcott Guild provided for the society more than $200 of which was not. Encouraging reports were also read from the Dorothy Guild, the house committee, and all the auxiliary societies.

The report of the medical staff, through their committee, Dr. Kingman and Swampstead, was read by the former. It showed that the work of this year had surpassed that of any previous year, seventy-two more patients having been treated than last year.

There were treated 499 patients, 365 white and 134 colored; 246 were discharged cured; 181 improved, and only 30 remain in the hospital; there were 6,000 who received medical attention. A high compliment was paid to the training school for nurses by Dr. Kingman; it is no longer, said he, an experiment.

LOW FEES.

$5 COVERS EVERYTHING.

Patients who have for years been suffering from catarrh, rheumatism, asthma, bronchitis, constipation, kidney, liver and bladder troubles, skin and blood disorders, varicose, lost or failing power, and various other obtrusive and deep-seated and complicated troubles, are being cured daily by Dr. Walker at the low rate of $5 a month and all remedies furnished. Dr. Walker realizes that many are discouraged, skeptical or financially unable to pay large fees for treatment and another bill at the discharge. It is to reach and benefit these that Dr. Walker has reduced his price to this small amount.

Dr. Walker's well-known sanitarium, at 1411 Pennsylvania avenue, adjoining Willard's Hotel, is open daily for consultation and treatment. Office hours, 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Wednesday and Saturday evenings, 7 to 8; Sundays, 10 to 12.

STILL ON APPROPRIATIONS.

House Also Passed Some Minor General Measures.

The House yesterday in a brief session disposed of the military academy appropriation bill.

In the morning hour resolutions and bills were agreed to extending the time for the completion of Arkansas Pass Harbor, donating condemned cannon to various Grand Army posts, and incorporating the Supreme Council, thirty-third degree Scottish Rite Masonry for the Southern jurisdiction.

The President's message in response to the House resolution of inquiry relative to Ambassador Bayard's Edinburgh and Boston, England, speeches, with Secretary Olney's report thereon, was laid before the House and referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Mr. Cannon reported the urgent deficiency bill, giving notice that he would take early occasion to call it up for consideration.

The House resolution of inquiry relative to the year ending June 30, 1897, which was passed, appropriated $449,117.61.

NOT A NOVICE IN CRIME

Thirteen-year-old House Breaker with a Black Record.

IN REFORM SCHOOL HERE

Harry Williams and a Fifteen-year-old Partner Planned a Big Robbery—In Executing It They Were Discovered and Escaped by "Covering" Several Men with Their Pistols.

Each of the police of the First precinct who met Harry Williams, the thirteen-year-old housebreaker, made this comment: "The boys are growing for him."

As stated in The Times of yesterday Harry was convicted at Paris, Texas, sentenced to the reform school at Washington during his minority and reached here on Sunday morning with a batch of other prisoners in custody of Marshal Hurst of the Eastern district of Texas and was lodged at police station No. 1.

Harry was given cell No. 5 and because of the youth, crime, and staid savagery of the boy he attracted much notice from the police. He admitted his guilt and boasted of his prowess, saying that "this cell's a snap" that if he had a gun he would cut his way out; that it was not the first time he had been arrested, and that as soon as he could get out of the reform school he thought he would tackle a train.

GUN AROUSED HIM.

Harry is large for his age, and talks in a very slow, sleepy, drowsy way, with his dogged eyes riveted on the man with whom he converses. He is clumsily built and lazy in every movement. Once during his incarceration he caught a glimpse of a gun as its butt protruded from the pocket of a policeman. His eyes took on a deadly glitter and he reached his hand stealthily through the bars and made a strong effort to get the weapon. Then it was that he said, "If I had that gun you'd have to get me or I'd get you." He did not say this in a playful mood, but evidently meant what he said. The only emotion the boy displayed was when he caught sight of the pistol.

He said that he and his partner, Willie Emerson, fifteen years old, had laid a plan to rob Jackson's store at Paris. They had entered it several times during the day before the night when it was agreed that
